College of Design
2013-2014 catalog, prepared Fall 2012

I. SIGNIFICANT TRENDS:

The College of Design has had two major areas of change. The first is the change from 4 departments to 7 departments – the 4 new departments were part of the Art and Design department which became the Department of Integrated Studio Arts, The Department of Industrial Design, The Department of Graphic Design and the Department of Interior Design.

The other change is the addition of two interdisciplinary master degree programs. The first is a Master of Urban Design (MUD) and the second is the Master of Sustainable Environments. The other major change is the addition of the Bachelor of Design degree program.
